REMEMBER TO SPEND YOUR DINE & DISCOVER NSW VOUCHERS

Customers in Castle Hill are being reminded to spend any remaining Dine & Discover NSW vouchers, with the 30 June deadline just around the corner.

Member for Castle Hill Ray Williams MP said the program has been a game changer for local businesses and families.

“The vouchers have been an overwhelming success, by getting more customers through doors of businesses and boosting household budgets,” Mr Williams said.

“The program has served its intended purpose by supporting our local hospitality and discovery businesses, both of which were hit hard by the pandemic.

“Across the State, $485 million has been invested across 16,600 businesses, but there is still $330 million still to be redeemed.

“My message to the community is simple – don’t miss out. Check to see if you have any vouchers remaining and spend them now.

“Whether you’re going to a restaurant with friends, checking out a new movie or taking the kids to a museum, there is money to be saved.”

Around 5.4 million customers registered for the program, receiving three $25 Dine and three $25 Discover vouchers.

After 30 June, Dine & Discover Vouchers will move to the expired tab of the vouchers section in the Service NSW app but Discover NSW registered business can still accept Parents NSW Vouchers until 9 October 2022.

Businesses with questions about the end of the program are encouraged to speak with their dedicated business concierge, call 13 77 88 or visit the Service NSW website.
